Steering Group Named To Study Center's Potential

25 Talk Plan For Milam-Wide Exhibition Hall

About 25 county and city leaders Tuesday night at Milam District Courtroom reviewed potential of a 200 by 300-foot exhibition hall and named a steering committee to pursue the possibilities.

Larry Smith, local businessman and acting chairman, told The Herald Wednesday that a nine-man steering committee would meet again Monday night to select committees for the proposed county-wide center.

They are: Dr. Lyle McDermott, Buddy Shipp, E. A. Perrin, Henry Ivey, N. L. Caperton, Dana Monroe, Tommy Chamberlain, Byron Wise and Gene Smitherman.

FOUR COMMITTEES

The group will select committee membership on finance, charter, building site and nominating for a permanent board and officers.

Spokesmen said that several sites are being considered for a huge exhibition hall outside the city limits. Financing broadly discussed Tuesday would be through Farmers Home Administration. Management would be employed.

The proposal had been previously discussed before Cameron Chamber of Commerce directors who approved a letter inviting Cameron leaders to the informational meeting Tuesday. Smith is Chamber agriculture committee chairman.

Several people Tuesday night urged county-wide support for the proposed center, which would be 60,000 square feet and capable of handling an array of exhibitions, livestock, rodeo and athletic events for the Milam-Central Texas area.

County Agent J. D. Moore noted that two other counties in the state had such exhibition halls and sustained them through family membership.

Smith said the group discussed in broad terms a metal building 200 by 300 feet on a site somewhere outside, but near Cameron city limits on a main highway. Parking space would be an important consideration, he said.

MOVABLE FLOOR

There would be concrete piers in the floor area which could be of sand for stock-type shows and covered with movable wood flooring for other events.

Smith said a file on the proposal has been labeled "multi-purpose building."

Discussion continued for more than an hour Tuesday among the group. Chamberlain pointed out that a convention of Central Texas fire departments in October would attract about 800 people, an example of the type of events which such a hall could serve.

COUNCIL RESOLVES AID:

To Boost Water, Paving Programs

The Cameron City Council Tuesday afternoon in a called meeting unanimously approved two resolutions assuring cooperation on industrial water development and replacement of existing curbing if removed in the city paving program.

N. L. Caperton, president of Cameron Industrial Foundation, Inc., and five representatives of the board appeared before the Council.

The Foundation board asked the City to resolve support for water to the industrial area north of the Cameron city limits.

After Council discussion, the Council voted unanimously, except for Councilman John Hays, still in the hospital, for a resolution by R. W. Wells and seconded by Lawrence Zotz.

It reads:

"A motion is made that the City of Cameron agrees to supply water and sewerage facilities to an area known as the Cameron Industrial Site. The terminal of these facilities will be furnished by one of two plans. The first plan involves federal assistance. In the event this plan is used, no industrial foundation funds will be requested. The other plan, in which no federal funds are involved, the City of Cameron will supply the bulk of the funds, if not all. In the event that the City should request assistance, the Cameron Industrial Foundation agrees to supply funds up to $5,000. This project to begin approximately September, 1968."

The other motion approved by the Council, also made by Wells and seconded by Zotz, committed the City to replace, in effect, any real curb and gutter, displaced in any new alignment required by the current City paving program.

Mayor E. A. Perrin emphasized he believed this is a reasonable action where good curbing and gutter are required to be moved because of a street width established under the program.

The resolution, also voted unanimously, says:

"It is resolved that City of Cameron will bear the expense of removing and replacing existing curb and gutters affected by the current paving program where the existing curb and gutter is of standard design, and does not fit the new drainage patterns and street widths."

City Secretary Buddy Fuller said a petition bearing 41 signatures had been brought to the City Council Tuesday which seeks removal of Cleveland and Davis Sts. from the paving program.

Eighteen residents and property owners on North Cleveland and 23 on North Davis signed the petition which questioned the street widths, adequacy of materials, that the program would impose financial strain on some and that previous construction was still being paid on some, among six points.

Council took no action on the petition.

This is another sign of the numerous possibilities for additional education going wanting because institution fails to reach student.

There are likely kids who qualify under this request and who might respond for the junior college approach to higher education. Kids from small high schools can do better the first year or two in a junior college, where the sheer weight of numbers and competition is not quite so fierce.

Some bright students can be found in the junior college level who would be lost altogether in the megaversities developing in Texas' major cities. The exceptional student will make the grade anywhere.

Indians Down Cards Monday

The Cardinals got 6 hits to the Indians' 5 in a thriller Monday night but the Indians turned in 3 runs while the Cardinals could manage just one—and runs win ball games.

In the hitting department for the Cards, Ernie Provasek got 2, Bo Cryer 2; and Vargas and Coker got 1 each. For the Indians Gary Fuchs and Fred Rangel turned in a pair and Al Matula added another.

Scoring the Cards' single run was Mitchan. For the Indians it was 1 each for Al Matula, Gary Fuchs and Phil McCall.

Winning pitcher was Fred Rangel with Mike Mueck and David Hollas catching. Losing pitcher was Tony Vargas with Mitchan behind the plate. Both pitchers went the distance.

YANKEES — CARDINALS

In a come-from-behind rally on July 11, the Cardinals came nipping at the league leading Yankees in the top of the 5th and sent the game into an extra inning before the Yankees ended the game with an 8-7 victory.

The winning run in the bottom of the 7th inning was scored by Mike Young after he had doubled and Bruce Zarosky followed with a double driving Young home.

Yankees scores came from John Barron and Jeff Smitherman, 2 each, with Young, Eanes, Zarosky and Friemel scoring 1 each.

Scoring for the Cardinals were Eddy Coker with 2, Bo Cryer, Ricky Hollas, Ernie Provasek, Scott Mitchan and Alan Jones each scoring 1.

It was a busy night for all Yanks including the entire pitching staff with Barron going 4 innings, Smitherman 1 and Friemel 2. Kopriva was behind the plate.

Tax Bill Passed Said '2nd Rate'

By Lloyd Albertson

Rep. Milton Schiller reported this week on the special session of the Texas Legislature on his return to Cameron after the 30-day session adjourned Wednesday afternoon, July 3.

Commenting on the tax bill which was enacted, Rep. Schiller said bluntly:

"The tax bill as finally passed was not what many of us wanted, but was the best we could get.

"However, it did raise the money needed to meet the expenses in the appropriations bill, as is required by our state constitution to maintain a balanced budget."

He pointed out that while the Legislature did complete most of the business that the session was called for, many of Governor John Connally's proposals were rejected.

CONNALLY PLAN BLOCKED

"At the start of the session it was evident that Governor Connally's tax plan would not be acceptable to the Legislature," he said. "This was simply because too many things now exempt would be included in his new sales tax.

"Also, the one-cent tax rebate to cities and towns he proposed was unacceptable to the members of the Legislature because they felt that many of the towns which had voted down the one-cent sales tax for themselves would have gotten the tax money anyway."

Rep. Schiller had this to say about the so-called "mini-bottle" bill, Governor Connally's other major proposal for the session:

"The bill passed the House by an eight-vote majority. It was not really a liquor-by-the-drink measure, but contained many reforms that ought to have been in the liquor laws of Texas.

"After it appeared certain the Senate would not pass the mini-bottle bill, Rep. Dick Corey introduced in the House a special bill containing many of the reforms in the mini-bottle bill minus the mini - bottle. I supported Rep. Corey's compromise, which also would have outlawed private clubs in dry areas of Texas."

VIEW ON TAXES

He concluded his report by returning to discuss the tax situation and to give his views on it gained from three terms of service in the Texas House.

"I voted for the tax bill simply because I believe in balancing the budget," he said. "This is the system Texas has operated under for 30 years."

"Some members of the Legislature voted for the appropriations bill to spend money and then voted against the tax bill to raise it, attempting to be popular with the people in their districts. This is irresponsibility in its worst form and is the same as writing a check on a bank without funds there—in plain language, writing a bad check."

"The appropriations bill," he added, "which contained some unnecessary spending no doubt soon will get the red pencil treatment on those items from Governor Connally—and rightfully so," Rep. Schiller said.

Atomic Energy In Farm Future

A crowd of approximately 150 Young Farmers, their wives, and guests heard C. G. Scruggs, editor of Progressive Farmer, speak on the latest developments in the beef industry.

He spoke at a special meeting of Cameron Young Farmers, Saturday, at Methodist Fellowship Hall. Derwood Cobb, outgoing CYF president, introduced the speaker.

Scruggs, who is president of the Southwest Animal Health Foundation, gave a report on the screwworm eradication program. He said 500 screwworm cases had been reported in the U.S. this season, but that eight years ago, ten times that number would have been experienced within a five-mile radius of Cameron alone.

"Eventually," he said, "screwworms will be completely eliminated from the North American continent.

"A program is also underway to control boll weevils using the same method as in the screwworm eradication program," he added.

"Atomic energy has more peaceful applications in the field of agriculture than in any other field," said Scruggs, "already atomic energy can be used to irradiate beef steak so that it can be stored at room temperature for up to three months without affecting taste or quality."

Scruggs outlined a program to increase income on ranching operations in this part of the state:

—Use only performance tested bulls to increase weaning weights and growth rate.

—Use artificial insemination which makes available the best bulls.

—Number all cows.

—Ear tag all calves denoting the dam of each and its month of birth.

"Set a goal," urged Scruggs, "of producing calves that will weigh 1,000 pounds at one year of age. Then, if possible, carry them to that weight yourself and make the profit that is now going to the buyers, grazers, and feeders."

Political Rally

For the Candidacy of

George C. Wallace

American Party Candidate For President

The American Party of Milam County will have a rally at the court house in Cameron at 7:30 p.m. on the evening of July 25, 1968.

This is a chance for you to see and hear first hand from a man who is closely associated with George C. Wallace. Dr. Henry Bucklew will be in Cameron to deliver a forceful speech in behalf of George C. Wallace. Dr. Bucklew holds degrees as a Doctor of Divinity and Doctor of Literature. He is former mayor of his home town, Laurel, Mississippi (population 30,000). His wife is the present mayor. Dr. Bucklew, now age 42, was elected National Chaplain of Veterans of Foreign Wars in 1964-1965. He has traveled widely in Europe and behind the Iron Curtain. At present he is full time campaign director and speaker in the George C. Wallace Campaign For President in five states.

Everyone is welcome. Let's all be there and give our support to George C. Wallace, the only candidate who holds firmly to the traditions of constitutional government. A tide of feeling for local government is rolling over this great land--come and give your support.

Contrary to false reports that have been circulated, any person who has registered for 1968 can vote in the general election in November for the party or candidate of his choice. It makes no difference which party or candidates you supported in the primaries. Do not let anyone tell you otherwise.

What Has Delay Already Cost?

It is encouraging to hear favorable comments from out-of-town visitors about urban renewal planning, new street construction and all the other pluses now occurring in Milam's County Seat.

It was not long ago that A. W. McCullin, chairman of the Urban Renewal Board, recalled touring downtown Cameron with visitors a few years ago, and getting their negative reaction to some downtown conditions.

It is sometime longer ago we recall an economist and metro bank vice president giving us (Cameron) the good advice to resolving its street dilemma.

That is part of both the current urban planning program, for the downtown area, and the street program, primarily for residential areas.

Urban planning includes the 24-block bracket from Tyson to West Fourth (US 77) and Crockett to Fannin and the streets therein. This is not to be confused with the street program now being instituted by the City.

The urban planning so praised by this recent visitor, an engineer, and street program so wisely recommended by that economist perhaps 10 years ago, are vital programs now a part of the future of Cameron.

Naturally, there are problems. But weigh the problems of street delay, some in question now, with what the problems will be in another passing year of rain, which even now dramatizes the need for the major program the City pursues.

Misunderstanding and delay now will bring some Cameron residential streets to the condition that Cameron's downtown finally resulted.

What has delay already cost Cameron?

How 'Bout Some Teen Ideas?

Perhaps an idea box for Cameron Teen Club Members would help teen leaders in finding a solution to lagging participation at the youth center.

Plans are for showing a teen movie 8 p.m. Thursday (tonight) to begin a series which will continue if membership supports it and membership grows.

Teen clubs have a problem, like many other organizations, in sustaining membership interest after a fine start. The summer sun and daylight saving time might also have something to do with it.

Cameron is lucky to have a teen club organized, financed and operating. And kids seem to be just as natural here as in other parts of the country in ignoring, in part, a good thing.

But whatever they would like to have, in addition to dances which are popular, should be mentioned to the teen leaders and adult advisors.

It is not many towns this size which have a place for teenagers specifically to call their own, and just as specifically to stay away from.

No need to let the teen center moulder, young people. You are energetic. You have a teen center now and which can be enlarged. Why not put your brains to it, like you did your hands and heads a few months ago.

Dear Sir:

Many scholarships are available that are not used because the general public has not been educated to know of their existence. One such student aid is the Connally-Carrillo Act. So few people know of this Act that Cooke County Junior College has established an office of information for the purpose of informing students throughout the State of Texas of the Connally - Carrillo Act. Cooke County Junior College will be happy to advise any student planning to attend any college, of his rights under this Act.

We feel that you can be of great service to your area if you find space to publish an article comparable to the enclosed article which appeared in the June 27 Dallas Morning News.

Any consideration that you give this matter will be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,
Paul D. Thomas
Student Advisor

(Ed. note: The following explains the Connally-Carrillo Act as mentioned in the above letter.)

"The Texas Legislature passed the Connally-Carrillo Act in 1967 which provides that a graduate of a Texas accredited high school can attend a Texas state supported college with tuition and fees paid by the state, if the student was in the top fourth of his class and the student's total family income does not exceed $4800. If you plan to attend any state college and think you are eligible for this program, then write or call Scholarship Advisor, Cooke County Junior College, Gainesville, Texas 76240, Phone 817 HO 5-3476."

Lawmakers Spending Plan Awaits Connally's Decision

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN

With his veto power Gov. John Connally has the last word on the free-spending works of the special legislative session.

He has until July 23 to exercise this privilege. Speculation is high that he will strike from the 1969 budget several million dollars worth of items and a number of controversial riders.

Lawmakers wrote into the appropriations bill several things which Connally already had publicly disapproved of in previous veto messages.

There is speculation that he may knock out of the appropriations bill as much as $10 million worth of spending that has been programed by the Legislature—much of it in conference committee.

Connally also is being urged to veto appropriation riders restricting the Air Control Board from using state funds to investigate pollution caused by cotton gins. He probably will do so, since he axed the same provisions last year.

Gov. Connally chopped $3.2 million from the Legislature's spending plans after the 1967 regular session.

Another rider likely to feel Connally's hatchet would deny salary funds to any state employee who took a leave of absence to work in a political campaign. This proviso wasn't in either House or Senate bill originally. How it showed up in the conference committee report is a mystery of the special session.

Some legislators contend that the governor cannot veto riders. But Connally has done it effectively in the past, and nobody has yet to challenge his authority in court. It's a good bet he plans to do it again.

LCB OFFICIAL TO RETIRE

Aubrey R. Cartlidge, chief of the Liquor Control Board's enforcement division and target of criticism in Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin's report on that Board, plans to retire. He's a 34-year veteran of the Board.

Cartlidge is expected to ask the Board, later this month, to let him retire August 31, two weeks after he reaches 65 years of age.

In Martin's investigative report, he claimed that Cartlidge "failed to demonstrate any supervisory control over agents," and added, "It is our feeling that as long as he remains chief of the enforcement division this situation is not likely to show improvement."

APPOINTMENTS

Gov. Connally named Shearn Smith district judge in Houston.

Col. Jack W. Fickessen, district engineer of the Fort Worth District, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, will join the Texas Water Development Board in an administrative capacity on August 1.

House Speaker Ben Barnes named five legislators to an interim committee to study the necessity of a tort claims act for citizens who wish to seek redress for injuries by negligent state and local government employees. They are Reps. Bill Finck of San Antonio, Bill Braecklein of Dallas, Temple Dickson of Sweetwater, Bill Swanson of Houston and C. L. Ray of Marshall.

MORRIS SWORN IN

Fort Worth lawyer Garrett Morris has been sworn in as a new member of the Texas Highway Commission. He replaces Hal Woodward of Coleman who has been appointed federal judge for the Northern District of Texas.

Morris is the head of a Fort Worth insurance company and has been practicing law there for 20 years.

DWI TEST LAW STILL NEEDED

Up to the point where the bill by Rep. Don Cavness of Austin to require blood and-or breath tests for intoxication in drivers was killed by the State Senate, it was the subject of an added debate: Cavness said Texas would lose Federal highway aid if the bill failed. Some lawmakers insisted that this was not so.

Weldon Hart of the Texas Good Roads Association says the Federal government has the "legal right to withhold 10 percent of Texas' Federal highway funds" until such a bill is passed.

Hart predicts that the Cavness bill will make better progress in the 1969 session.

LAND OFFICE SETS SALE

State Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler said the School Land Board's next oil, gas and sulphur lease will be held at 10 a.m., Dec. 3 in the General Land Office, but bids must be received by October 16, 1968.

GOP URGES JOB PROGRAM

Texas Republican Party has called for a tax credit plan to encourage more industry - sponsored job training programs for unemployed, unskilled workers.

Nine-point program calls for enactment of new Texas Employment Commission aid; improved vocational and technical education and better industrial safety services.

GOP would also limit to two the number of times a person can refuse suitable job offers provided work pays as much or more than unemployment or welfare benefits.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editar:

I was sitting under a shade tree out here on this Johnson grass farm yesterday, it's my favorite because it's lined up with two others so that when the sun moves, one tree picks up the shadow, then the next, and I can sit in one place four or five hours without losing my shade, and if you don't think this is important, have you ever gone to sleep in the shade and woke up in the sun?

I wasn't sleeping today, I was wide awake and for more than an hour had been watching a newspaper in the pasture about a hundred yards off moving about gently in the breeze. The wind seemed to be toying with it, rolling it around like a kitten with a ball of yarn.

I kept hoping it'd blow over to where I was, after all, one of man's first obligations in this fast-moving world is to stay informed, democracy can't function when the people are in the dark, politicians prove this all the time, but when the second hour passed and that paper was still a hundred yards away I took things into my own hands and got up and walked over and picked it up and brought it back. I get tired of people who can't do things for themselves. That's not all but it's part of the trouble with some people in this country today, and around the world, too. They not only want something for nothing, they want it delivered.

After all, it didn't really hurt me to get up and go after that paper. It seems to me that if hundreds of people scattered throughout the world are going to the trouble of gathering the news and others are going to the trouble of making the paper to print it on and others to the trouble of editing and printing it in readable form, it's not asking too much of me to get up once in a while and walk over and pick up a copy.

This country wasn't built on people who waited forever for a newspaper to drop into their lap.

Feeling pretty good about this show of initiative, I sat back down under my line of shade trees and later on in the day, after I've rested up, I intend to open it up and read it thoroughly.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Sen. Watson Named To Interim Panel For Parks Study

AUSTIN

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith today named Sen. Murray Watson Jr. of Waco to membership on the Senate's special interim committee to study the Parks and Wildlife Department.

The study was requested by S. R. 235, adopted during the 1st Called Session of the 60th Legislature, which was adjourned July 3.

The committee is directed to study "the problem of locating and securing more land which could be set aside for parks and recreational purposes, the better utilization of existing parks and development of existing parks to accommodate more visitors."

A full report, to include appropriation recommendations for more and better parks and recreational facilities, is to be made to the 61st Legislature, which convenes in January, 1969.

In announcing Senator Watson's appointment to the committee, Lt. Gov. Smith commented that Sen. Watson has frequently expressed a great interest in developing the full potential of the vast scenic and recreational areas of Texas.

Sen. Watson, an attorney, has been a member of the Senate since 1963, and served three terms in the House of Representatives before his election to the upper house. He is chairman of the Senate's standing committee on Insurance and vice chairman of the Agriculture and Livestock Committee.

County Crops Looking Good

By H. D. Moore

Early cotton shows promise with ¾ grown bolls and a promise of a good crop. In fact, the cotton crop could easily double the yield of the 1967 crop.

Too much rain causes plant growth problems in cotton. We expect between 26 and 27 thousand acres of cotton to be planted in 1968 in Milam County with a yield of about ½ bale per acre.

In reality, it is too early to try to predict a county cotton crop but the prospects look good. Then too we have the cotton insect situation to contend with. So far, no appreciable damage has occurred.

CORN CROP

The largest county crop increase will occur with the corn crop. We made a near failure with the corn last year. We expect about 7 to 8 thousand acres of corn to be harvested with an average yield of near 50 bushels per acre.

Corn has yielded to grain sorghum as the leading grain crop in the county. The cool, wet spring and early summer has been favorable growing weather for corn.

GRAIN SORGHUM

There will be mixed emotions with our farmers when we predict a 1968 crop about equal or maybe a little better than the 1967 maize crop. This crop is actually a dry weather crop and does not thrive under heavy rainfall conditions.

However, for the most part this crop looks good. Harvesting will begin about the last week in July.

AERIAL SPRAY SERVICE HERE

Those who need the services of an airplane for spraying their crops are advised that the M&M Air Service is located at the Cameron Airport. The service may be reached by calling AC 817 - 697-2312.

BROWN ROT IN PEACHES

What's the matter with my peaches was the leading question last week. Answer: Too much rain and not enough sulphur used to control the brown rot. Brown rot is a disease common to peaches and must be recognized each year before it develops. We may have to use Captan to control brown rot on peaches and plums.

Applications should begin soon after the petals have fallen off the blooms and repeated each 7 days for at least 6 applications. Wettable sulphur should be used at the rate of 3 tablespoons per gallon of water and Captan should be used at the rate of 1 tablespoon per gallon of water. Little success is realized in controlling any plant disease after the lesions develop in the veins of the leaves. The fungicide must be applied before the condition develops.

WHITE MATERIAL ON PECANS

Powdery mildew is developing on pecans. This too, is a disease of shrubbery as well as pecans. Some varieties are more susceptible than others. Zineb, our general fungicide will not control powdery mildew.

'Karathane" is recommended for the control of mildew on shrubbery but we do not have a "clearance label" for using Karathane on pecans. We do not anticipate an appreciable buildup of powdery mildew on the demonstration pecans that have received regular applications of Zineb and Duter.

However, a few of the pecans on the lower limbs are showing a light infestation of powdery mildew even though these recommended fungicides have been applied to the trees at regular intervals.

Powdery mildew is spread by spores carried by the wind. Wind carries the spores great distances. These spores require little moisture for germination—in fact the morning dew furnishes enough moisture for their development. The fungus that causes mildew grows on the surface but it sends long suckers into the leaf cells. Perhaps that is why it is hard to kill with fungicides.

CHOOSING A ROAST

Which is the best buy -- blade chuck roast or shoulder arm roast? Blade chuck is more tender, but the shoulder arm has more meat and less waste.

By Alva E. Sanders

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman today called attention to the fact that marketing weights of fed cattle recently have started to move above levels of a year ago.

The Secretary warned that this trend could hurt fed cattle prices, which have been higher than a year earlier all through 1968.

He said one of the main reasons for the stronger price has been the good judgment shown by cattle feeders in the orderly marketing of their cattle as they reached proper finish for their grade.

He noted that average weights of fed steers sold by farmers the first three weeks of June ranged from 6 to 16 pounds heavier than a year earlier.

"I hope that cattle feeders will not succumb to the temptation to hold back cattle in the feedlots and carry them to heavier weights," Freeman said, warning that the extra poundage is the fastest route to driving down cattle prices.

He stressed that cattlemen have in their own hands a most effective tool for maintaining cattle prices—that of resisting the urge to hold their cattle too long, thereby adding price-depressing poundage to their market.

Two FHA Members At National Meeting

Georgeena Anderson, junior, and Carol Lucko, senior in C. H. Yoe High School were among the 1,200 delegates to the 1968 National Meeting of the Future Homemakers of America, July 8-11, in Miami Beach, Florida.

Georgeena, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Travis Anderson, and Carol, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Lucko, all of Cameron, joined 119 other FHA'ers and 34 supervisors who represented the Texas Association at the national meeting.

Theme of the meeting was "Citizenship - A Challenge to Cherish." Twelve hundred youth delegates, selected on a state quota basis, and some 300 adult advisors who are state home economics staff members or local home economics teachers, attended.

WORSHIP IN CHURCH

and get a spiritual lift for the whole week

And The Angel

...of Revelations said: "Gather the clusters of the vine of the earth, for her grapes are fully ripe." How beautiful! How far-reaching is this challenge! It is up to us. Throughout the Bible the grape and the vine hold great spiritual meaning. They emphasize the close union between Christ and His church. We judge the vine from the fruit it bears. St. John warned us in the first place, that the branch cannot bear fruit, except it abide in the Lord. In a spiritual sense, man makes his own harvest. His reaping is strictly in accordance with how well he has taken care of the vineyard, how thoroughly he has supported the charities of the Lord, and how genuinely he has served God.

You In The Church
The Church In You

CARD OF THANKS

We want to thank all who were so kind to us during our time of sorrow. We appreciate the flowers, food, memorials and each kindness shown us.

We especially thank Pastor Moehring. May God bless each of you.

The family of Gene Friemel

IN LOVING MEMORY OF

Homer Fuller, who passed away July 15, 1964.
A precious one is from us gone
A voice we loved is stilled.
A place is vacant in our hearts,
Which never can be filled.
Some may think you are forgotten
Though on earth you are no more
But in memory you are with us
As you always were before.
